JSI Health Announces Nightingale Award Winners

for immediate release

OCTOBER 7, 2024

JASPER, Ind., October 7, 2024 – JSI Health is thrilled to announce that at our inaugural launch at Healthcare Design Conference + Expo, in Indianapolis, we have won two Nightingale Awards from Healthcare Design Magazine.

Kindera: Silver Award

Our performance recliner Kindera, has won the Silver Nightingale award for Patient Seating. Kindera was created in partnership with designer Mike Shields, with the intent that patients feel at ease during their treatment and recovery. It revolutionizes patient care by transforming the traditional dynamics of patient and caregiver interaction. We focused on comfort, ergonomics, enhanced caregiver & patient connectivity and communication to elevate the overall experience. Kindera's human-centered design features intuitive adjustment controls, allowing caregivers to focus on patients and improve communication and care quality. The Trans4rm™ system enables either arm of the recliner to retract into the frame, facilitating smooth and safe patient transfers without increasing the recliner's footprint.

Satisse: Innovation Award

Satisse, our family of metal seating, has won the prestigious Nightingale Innovation award for Guest/Lounge Seating. Understanding the changing dynamics of the healthcare landscape, designer Mike Shields sought to create a solution for designers and facilities with the patent-pending MagLinx™ connectors. These glide connectors create an incredibly strong magnetic bond without requiring hardware or additional tools, resulting in endless flexibility to transform the space from one configuration to another. With its subtly curved pommel grip arm, Satisse is designed to feel like home, so people feel cared for the moment they step into your space.
