Courtyard by Marriott New Orleans

1. & 5. Suites showcase headboards that serve their traditional purpose as well as displaying beautiful artwork. A selection of distinctive graphics are framed in maple veneer with a rich espresso finish defining the rooms with a refreshing energy. Subtle, yet sleek upholstered extensions add a hint of contrast to accentuate the main attraction of each room. 2. The adjoining bench and 3-drawer chests serve their purpose successfully. Low bench with splash guard allows luggage to be stored atop, open space below works perfect to tuck away shoes and such, or hide your belongings in the closed drawer space. A small ottoman, nestled in the half circle cutout, completes this guest amenity. 3. Double rooms provide a double dose of the beautiful headboards and include various sized desk, mobile desk and storage combinations for room configurations. 4. Right at home, set your accessories in the open corner shelving upon entering the room. Pull out the mobile desk, plug in your device, turn on the tv and work away.

COVER Enjoy the dynamic, individualized space of each room that provides beauty, a dose of relaxation and a hint of energy. Furniture built with solid wood construction that is handcrafted within the United States.

KLEM was elated to work hand in hand with the project design and management teams to transform the hotel by implementing new concepts, new product applications, and a unique guest experience. Suites were developed to provide separate space for sleep, for work, and for leisure. Each space exhibits an identity with high-end design elements reflective in the caseworks and in their application.

SCOPE Supplied caseworks for 230 guest rooms. Product was custom designed and manufactured within the United States. PRODUCT Headboards, nightstands, desks, mobile desks, 3-drawer chests, luggage benches and side tables.

"Klem was hands-on throughout the entire project. While meeting design requirements, Klem provided value-engineered ideas to meet our budget and were upfront and accurate with delivery dates. The casepieces for this property had numerous detailed components that could have been difficult for installation; however, Klem walked the installers through each process and provided onsite assistance for the first turn of rooms. The service and attention, along with a great quality product, made this project a huge success."
